YOU can manage in the Majors with STRAT-O-MATIC Baseball.

As a STRAT-O-MATIC Major League Manager, you'll make the actual game-deciding moves Houk, Hodges, Alston, Weaver and Murtaugh make. You'll decide when to pinch-hit, play the infield in, change pitchers, signal for hit-and-run, bunt or hit away. Only STRAT-O-MATIC BASEBALL brings you so realistically face-to-face with the decisions a Big League Manager makes on the playing fields.

You're always arguing with that guy down the block about who can manage a Big League team better. Well now you can settle that argument under as close to real game conditions as you can find this side of a Major League dugout. And have great fun doing it playing STRAT-O-MATIC Baseball, the real-to-life game that uses actual big league players according to their proven abilities. It's strictly up to YOU to manage your players — to pull them together under your leadership into the most powerful team possible.

You know your baseball. What to expect from clutch-hitting Roberto Clemente with men on base. How to pitch to Willie Mays with Willie McCovey on deck. How the good control pitchers like Fergy Jenkins seem to get stronger in the late innings while "wild men" like Nolan Ryan tire. In STRAT-O-MATIC it's up to you to get the most out of your players.

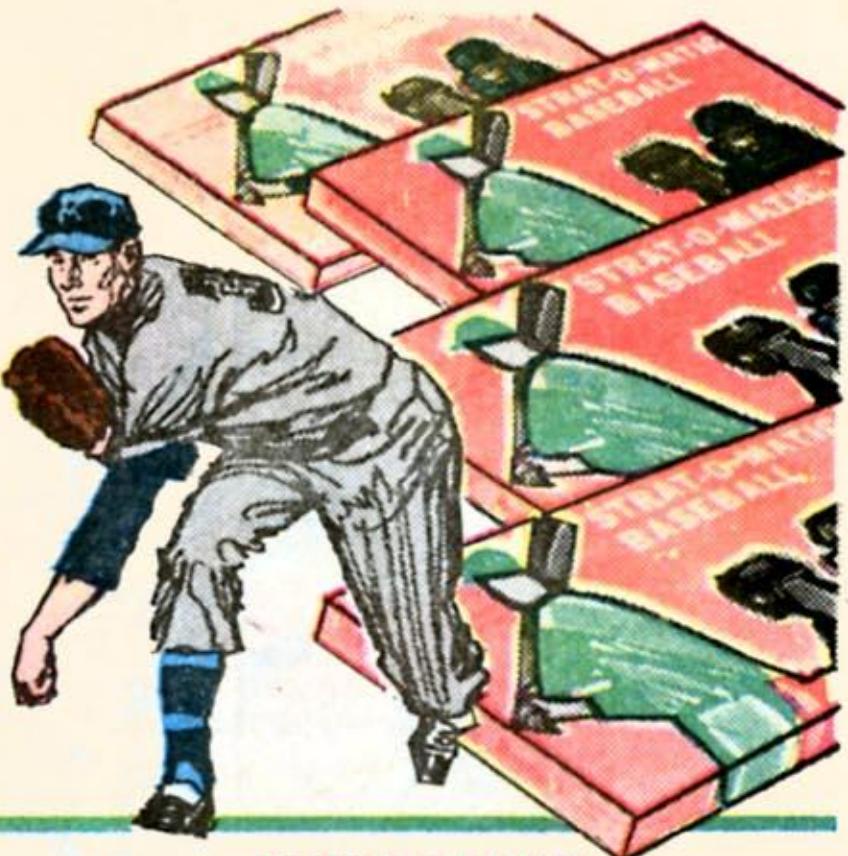

DO THINGS YOUR WAY

As you watch a game on TV, aren't there times when you disagree with the manager's decision? When you'd hold Tom Seaver back an extra day to match the Cardinal's Ace, Bob Gibson. Well STRAT-O-MATIC is your chance to play Big League baseball YOUR way.

As a STRAT-O-MATIC Manager, if you make the right decisions, you're going to win. That's because we've taken every possible statistic on 480 Big League players and put them into a computer. All this vital information is brought together on an individual performance card for EACH player. In STRAT-O-MATIC, a player performs as he does on the field. Brooks Robinson makes those incredible plays at third. Frank Howard hits them out of sight.

Big League Baseball...the STRAT-O-MATIC way

just fill in coupon for free brochure with samples

EASY-TO-PLAY

Sounds complicated? It's not. The computer does all the hard figuring. Playing STRAT-O-MATIC is easy. It's only the decisions that are hard. Should you hit and run with Boog Powell at bat. It reduces the chances of a groundball Double Play. But you take a chance on the free-swinging Powell taking a whiff as the runner is cut down at second. It's YOUR decision in STRAT-O-MATIC.

STRAT-O-MATIC Baseball begins when you make up your lineup. Would you go with Manager Spanky Anderson's day-to-day lineup for Cincinnati? Or would you slot Pete Rose in the important third place in the order rather than as lead-off? When, as Yankee Manager, is it time to yank Stan Bahnsen? Do you bring in McDaniels or Aker?

PLAY YOUR DREAM GAMES

Manage STRAT-O-MATIC against all the kids in the neighborhood. Play actual American and National League schedules. Play your inter-league "dream games" — Vida Blue on the mound for Oakland against the Mets with Tom Seaver. You can even pick your own ALL-STAR teams and manage them in a 7-game "World Series" rather than the inconclusive single game.

If you like Big League Baseball, you'll love STRAT-O-MATIC. And just playing it will help you to become a "headier" player yourself. Fill in the coupon and we'll mail you a colorful brochure explaining STRAT-O-MATIC BASEBALL in detail. It's free and includes free samples.

Okay, readers, I'm back—the Big E, with another column on DC coming attractions! You say you want action, mystery, and adventure? Tell you what I'm gonna do! I'll give you a rundown on our upcoming line of the best in all three areas! March is a big month—coming in like a pride of lions, with Our Army at War, and going out like—no, not like a lamb, but that super-sweetheart at whom only a villain would say "Bah!" —Supergirl! And don't forget, this is the month of DC's first issue of Korak, Son of Tarzan!

KORAK, SON OF TARZAN makes his debut as a DC hero in the June issue, #46, which hits the stands March 14! Len Wein has scripted and Frank Thorne has illued a great tale titled "The Treasure-Vaults of Opar," wherein Korak aids some people who have crash-landed in the jungle. Also in this issue—beginning two adaptations of novels by Edgar Rice Burroughs: "The World Within," based on the first Pellucidor book, At The Earth's Core, illued by Alan Weiss; and "Mars or Bust," from Carson of Venus, with pics by Mike Kaluta!

There are eight million people in Gotham City, and unless The Batman finds the right one . . . "At Dawn Dies Mary MacGuffin!" Also in the May BATMAN #241, is a Robin tale, featuring a surprise guest star—"Secret of the Psychic Siren!" Extra—a tale acclaimed by many long-time Batmaniacs as the best Batman tale of the fabulous 1940's—"The Case of the Honest Crook!" It's on sale March 14, so don't miss it!

MR. MIRACLE fights the strangest battle of his life, trapped in the mind of a monstrous creature called The Lump! How can he possibly win when The Lump has absolute control over this mental world? Big Barda has taken control of her Apokolips girl group, to lead it to the rescue—but will they be too late? And who is the Masked Prisoner of Section Zero? Also, a great Kirby Classic: the very first story of the Boy Commandos! It's #8 (June), on sale March 16!

Gnarrk returns at long last in the June TEEN TITANS (#39)—and he reverts to his savage caveman ways! What will be the response of the terrific teens to this? I think you can imagine there'll be plenty of action in this tale! Also, there's a classic story of The Hawk and the Dove—one I know you'll want to read! So be on the lookout on or about March 16—the date it's due on the newsstands!

FORBIDDEN TALES OF THE DARK MANSION brings a chilling full-length mystery to you . . . seven people trapped together in an abandoned sanitarium . . . and one of them is a murderer! The question is . . . which? I won't give you any clues; you'll have to get #5, the June issue, when it hits the stands, March 16—and find out for yourself! Remember, this Gothic is a complete novel—taking up the whole issue!

All over the world weather goes wild and SUPERMAN traces the cause to "The Island That Invaded the Earth!" It's a strange mystery that the Man of Might solves—yet doesn't solve! As for The Fabulous World of Krypton, you've often seen the story of how Superman's home world perished—but now you can learn about "The Day Krypton Didn't Die!" There's also another 25-year-old Silver Anniversary tale: "The Case of the Living Trophies!" It's the May issue #251, on sale March 16!

We'd like to send you a score of Postage Stamps from nations overrun by invaders in the 19th and 20th Century and never freed again — stamps so appealing that experienced and beginning collectors alike want them! When these are gone, no more will be available. And from our Approval Service we'll include 110 additional stamps from Britain's Lost Empire (alone worth over $3 at catalog price!), plus an Illustrated Album and other unusual stamps for Free Examination. You can keep the Album and 110 British Empire Stamps as an Introductory Bonus should you buy $1 worth from our approval selection! Or return Album and 110 Stamps with selection and buy nothing! Cancel service any time. But in either case, the valuable Lost Nations Stamps are yours to keep FREE — as an introduction to the World's Most Rewarding Hobby. Send 10¢ for mailing today while supplies last!

WONDER WOMAN'S WRITE-IN

Z-108

Hello again.

I've just glanced at the top of this page—what we comic book types call a logo—and me it definitely does not grab.

"Wonder Woman's Write In?" Yuch. Sounds like a protest demonstration for ball-point-pen freaks.

So it's time for the first—and maybe last—Diana Prince Contest. You're invited to participate. The rules? Easy. Simply submit a title for this letter column on a post card and send it to

Wonder Woman Contest
909 Third Avenue
New York, N.Y. 10022

Get your suggestion to us on or before April 10, 1972. Winners will be chosen by the undersigned and Mortimer The Twitching Troll, a hideous monster we keep chained to the Xerox machine.

Prizes? Ah, Mortimer and I thought you'd never ask.

The winner will receive a copy of the Green Lantern/Green Arrow Paperback Comic, autographed by the artist, editor and author. It contains two GL/GA novels, one of which is a prize-winner itself. (The tale, titled "No Evil Shall Escape My Sight," copped the Shazam Award of the Academy of Comic Book Arts last year.) Also an introduction by yet another heavy prize winner, Samuel R. Delany, whose work has won five major science-fiction awards.

In case of supplicate winning entries, we'll give duplicate prizes.

(The rest of you, the non-prize winners, can buy the book, minus autographs, at your book store, paperback rack—wherever you go for reading matter when you've finished the month's supply of comics.)

Okay, I'll admit it isn't the heaviest prize ever offered. Can't compare with, say, an all-expenses paid weekend in East Orange, N.J. But what the hey? Things are tight all over. (For instance, Mortimer's diet has been reduced to three live oxen and an editorial assistant per day. Shame about those oxen.)

Get a postcard and lay your suggestion on us. Please. We need your help.

I'd hoped to fill the rest of this space with your letters. No can do, though. As of now, I don't have any of your letters. Our printing schedule demands that the words you read in late Winter or early Spring be written in mid-November. Therefore, I'm hacking out copy for Wonder Woman #200 before you've seen #199. Very confusing. And I don't feel there's any point in printing comments addressed to the previous editor. Neither praises nor pans would be pertinent to the present stories and art because, as I hope you've observed, we're sending Di and friends and foes in a new direction entirely.

A few razor-eyed readers may have recognized one of this issue's second-string baddies, Dr. Moon, the nasty-rotten-evil surgeon. His role in "The Beauty Hater" is his second appearance in a DC mag, matter of fact. His debut was in Batman #240, as a member of Ras Al Ghul's international crime cartel. In case you care, the story was called "Vengeance For A Dead Man."

Wouldn't surprise me if the luna-tic, knife-artist turned up again, somewhere, sometime...

Mortimer just hit me with a copy of the aforementioned printing schedule—cunningly wrapped in a brick—thus bringing to my attention the fact that we're in the middle of the 200th anniversary of Wonder Woman Comics.

Oh, sorry, sorrier, sorriest!

We should have done something special. A two-parter featuring both old and new Wonder Woman, or a reprint of the first-ever WW adventure, or some blessed thing.

Well, we didn't. Morty's missile came too late. Except for these lines, the mag is already taking a bath in printer's ink. Splashing and splashing, like my tears of remorse. (The typewriter's getting rusty.)

Okay. Wait 'til the 300th issue. We'll do such! a number you won't believe it. Promise.

The troll suggests I write a couple of paragraphs about the talent responsible for the issue you're holding. (Buddies, when a hideous twitching troll makes a suggestion, you listen!) Right, Mortimer. Pull in your fangs and dig . . .

Begin with the cover. The symbol in the corner stands for "Jeff Jones," and if you're much into fantasy, that symbol is all you need to see. Jeff is, quite plainly, a perfectly splendid artist. You may have seen his sparse, moody pen-and-ink drawings in science fiction magazines, particularly Amazing and Fantastic. You've surely seen his paintings on dozens of book covers. (In the unlikely event you haven't, you non-prize winners, take a look while you're buying the GL/GA paperback. Which you are going to do—remember?) To my surprise and utter delight, Jeff confessed himself a Diana Prince fan at a party not long ago, and offered to submit cover ideas to us. It took me approximately a tenth of a microsecond to accept. The results exceeded our fondest expectations. Has Di ever been so lovely? Or Doc Cyber so menacing? We think not, and we're pretty certain you'll agree.

We were equally lucky with the interior art, the effort of the excellent Dick Giordano. Unless you're new to comic books, you know Dick. Once upon a time, he was an editor here, responsible for Aquaman, Teen Titans, The Creeper, The Hawk and the Dove and a handful of other titles. Then he got an itch in his fingers, hung up his editorship, grabbed pen, brush and ink-bottle, and tied himself to his Connecticut home, where he began inking stories edited by Julie Schwartz, including the renowned Batman. We lost a fine editor; we gained a great inker.

Now, Mr. Giordano had a secret. He's as good with a pencil as he is with pen and brush.

A few of us knew it, of course. A few of us recalled Sarge Steel, a private eye saga Dick did for another company—recalled the gorgeous girls, the tough-as-tungsten hero, the stunning action sequences. But knowing that particular secret was like knowing there's enough gold in Fort Knox to provide the population of India with popsicles and peanuts from tomorrow 'til the sun's a cinder; a fat lot of good it did us, right?

Wrong!

Over the old dishwater that passes for coffee around our offices, Dick expressed interest in handling Diana's visuals solo—both pencils and inks. Suddenly, the dishwater tasted like pure poetry. As with Jeff, we accepted instantly, and as with Jeff, the results are superb. See for yourself. Share our joy.

Next meeting, I'll publish as many of your gripes, grumblings and—dare we pray for such good fortune?—glorifications as will fit.

And finally . . .

Please—please—send us suggestions for a lettercol logo. We're moderately desperate. Mortimer and I. You'd hate to see a grown man and a hideous twitching troll cry, wouldn't you?

And hey. Kindly bear in mind——that today is the first day of the rest of your life.

Peace.
Denny
